Finding Books in MaagNet

Books and other materials can be found through MaagNet, the Maag Library online catalog. Use MaagNet to locate items available in Maag Library. Search by Author, Title, Keyword, or Subject Heading. Click on a title to access the record for an item, where you will see the item’s Location, Call Number, and Status. This information lets you determine if the book is available and where it is located in the library. Maag Stacks materials are shelved alphabetically by call number on floors 3-6A. Oversize materials are located on the first bank(s) of shelves on each floor. To determine on which floor of the library your item is shelved, use the Building Guide online or signs posted in the Reference Room and by the elevators.

Also, if you scroll down in the item’s record, you will find the Library of Congress Subject Headings under which that book has been classified. By clicking on the listed subject headings, you can find other materials on the same or similar topics.

Finding & Requesting Books in OhioLINK

Use the OhioLINK Library Catalog to locate items available through other OhioLINK institutions. Available items may be requested and delivered to Maag Library for checkout (allow 3-5 days delivery time). To request materials, you need your library barcode number from the...
Use the same search techniques to search the OhioLINK Library Catalog that you use in MagNet. Once you have located a book that you would like to request, check the Status column under Library Holdings. You may have to click on Display Holdings of OhioLINK Libraries. As long as one of the librarians lists the book as AVAILABLE, you may request it:

- Click on green Request button
- Select Youngstown State from the dropdown list of institutions and Submit
- Enter your name and library barcode, then Submit

You will see a confirmation screen that tells you if your transaction has been successful. Delivery time is approximately 3 to 5 days. When your items arrive, an email will be sent to your YSU email account. To check the status of your request, go to Your Library Record and log in using your name and library barcode. Click the Requests tab to see the items you requested. A request can have one of three statuses: REQUESTED, IN TRANSIT, or OHIOLINK RECV'D. OHIOLINK RECV'D indicates the item is ready for checkout at the Circulation Desk.

Introduction

This book addresses why the United States took on so much debt and, eventually, how the debt will be reduced—delevered—and the costs of that deleveraging. In-between, it differentiates sources of real economic and financial market growth from those that hinder and undermine them. It also provides some perspective on asset class returns over the last nine decades and some insight into the foundation of past secular bear and bull markets. That perspective is meant to better frame some basic rules of the investment road and hopefully make for more effective future navigation in an increasingly shifting global economy and more diverse market environment. First, the book starts with a reminder of a time when the outlook seemed pretty bleak.

1980 was a difficult year around the world, and it was evident in the somber public mood. The governments of the United States and much of Europe were trying to reverse a decade-long tide of rising interest rates, high inflation, and poor economic growth. In the United States, the core inflation rate rose above 12.5%, the U.S. government paid about 17.5% for short-term money funded with 3-month T-Bills, the rate paid for a conventional 30-year mortgage...
